AUSTRO-GERMAN FORCES DRIVEN BACK ALONG EASTERN FRONT

PETROGRAD ANNOUNCES CAPTURE OF TWENTY THOUSAND GERMANS ON EASTERN FRONT, INCLUDING FOUR HUNDRED OFFICERS.

Slavs are now threatening Lemberg, Galician Capital, as Result of their Breaking Teuton Lines Near Lutsk—London Says British Troops Yesterday Made Progress North of Pozieres and Near High Wood, Two German Counter Attacks Against Delville Wood Being Repulsed—Paris Says Two German Detachments which Attempted to Reach the French Lines West of Verman Dovillers, Were Repulsed and German Attacks near Fleury Checked—Turks Said to be Sending Army into Hungary to Help Stem the Slavs There.

Petrograd announces the capture of twenty thousand Germans on the eastern front, including four hundred officers.

The Austro-Germans have been driven back on the whole eastern front from Kovel to Brody. The capture of Brody by the Russians seriously threatens the Galician capital of Lemberg, as the occupation of Brody by the Slavs gives them a direct road to Lemberg and may also have the effect of causing the entire Austrian line southward toward Tarnopol and Buzach to be drawn back.

British troops yesterday made progress north of Pozieres and near High Wood. Two German counter attacks against Delville Wood were repulsed, London announces.

A Paris statement says two German detachments, which attempted to reach the French lines west of Verman Dovillers, were repulsed. The French also checked two German attacks near Fleury in the Verdun sector.

YOUNG LADY MAKES GOOD IN BUSINESS

ENTERS INSURANCE FIELD AND IS NOW RECOGNIZED AS MOST ABLE OF ANY IN THIS SECTION OF STATE.

More man is prone to pass lightly the effort of any woman who enters his domain, and attempts to snatch some of the business he thinks belongs, by right of heredity, to the sterner sex. But more man is beginning to realize that he will have to get a large sized hustle on himself if he keeps in the running when one of the weaker vessels essays to cast her lot and wrest a living along lines in which man is supposed to predominate.

Ardmore has several such, but perhaps the pioneer of them all is Miss Hallette Fraley, who, while comparatively young, is at the head of one of the largest and most prosperous insurance agencies in the city, if not in the entire state.

This young lady began work a few years ago in the office of her brother, who was doing an insurance and loan business in a small way in connection with his many other business ventures. It was not long before he concluded to quit the field, and turned the business over to his sister, thinking, perhaps, at the time, like a majority of men would, that she would soon be out of it permanently herself.

Miss Hal took another view of the matter, however. She was delighted with the work and went at it with a vim. When business was slack she took herself to the streets and went after it, and soon her books showed such an increase that it looked to her older brother that he had made a mistake in underestimating the ability of his little sister.

The business has steadily grown from the day she took charge to the present time. She has one of the best equipped offices in the state on North Washington street, opposite the new postoffice building and has been compelled to add frequently to the clerical force in order to keep up with the business.

Miss Fraley is just an example of the ordinary American girl who wants to be independent, and her legion of friends rejoice at her success.

Tulsa, Okla., July 29.—Lightning struck and instantly killed John E. Harrington, 38 years old, as he was playing golf on the links at the Tulsa Country Club Friday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock. J. P. Flannigan, who was with Mr. Harrington at the time, was knocked unconscious for a short time by the bolt, and W. L. Connelly, who was in the party, but standing about 150 yards distant, was affected. Four caddies who were attending the golfers were dazed but otherwise unharmed by the lightning. Death came to Mr. Harrington just as he was bending over to put the ball into the eighth hole on the course. He was in the act of swinging his putter when the shaft from the gathering clouds above split its way through the atmosphere and laid him lifeless on the green.

GIVES APPAM TO THE BRITISH

FEDERAL JUDGE WADDILL AT NORFOLK DECIDES IN FAVOR OF ENGLISH OWNERS.

BRINGS UP PROBLEM

United States Government Now Confronted With Problem of What to Do With German Crew, Which May Have to Be Interned.

Norfolk, Va., July 28.—Federal Judge Waddill today decided the libel proceedings for possession of the captured British liner Appam in favor of the English owners and against the German prize crew, which brought her here.

The court held that the German government lost all claims when she brought the Appam into neutral waters at Hampton Roads, for the purpose of "laying up" the vessel indefinitely.

Problem for Government.

Washington, July 29.—The federal court's decision at Norfolk, holding that the Appam is not a prize ship, confronts the United States government with what to do with Lieutenant Berg and the crew which brought in the ship. Generally speaking, Berg and his men are regarded as part of the German naval forces and might have to be interned until the close of the war.

OPPOSITION TO BOND ISSUE IS NOW FADING

BUSINESS MEN AND LARGE PROPERTY OWNERS ALL ANXIOUS THAT BONDS BE ISSUED, THAT PROGRESS NOT BE RETARDED.

With absolutely no pronounced opposition, the bond issue for water and sewer connections and a convention hall, it is taken for granted that the election tomorrow will carry overwhelmingly. It is being predicted that a good vote will be cast, for as Roy Johnson puts it: "Nothing could give Ardmore a bigger and better boost to outside capital than a vote of confidence by Ardmore itself." And that is what it will amount to.

Every citizen of Ardmore appreciates the fact that the local men who have made money in oil here are at the back of the greater Ardmore movement which is fast crystallizing and will be launched in full force this fall. These men are the big taxpayers of the city, and are all for the bonds.

Such men as Chas. von Weise, Bert Simpson, P. C. Dings, Wirt Franklin, Ed Galt, Roy Johnson, S. A. Apple, Kirk Dyer, Mark Kirkpatrick, and many others are outspoken in their convictions that the necessary public improvements for a city to grow must be provided.

Great stress is being laid on the fact that despite the big asset the oil industry is to Ardmore, it has natural resources apart from this which are sufficient to build a great city, and that the future of Ardmore is based as much on its location and other resources as on its wonderful oil fields, which as yet, according to the great oil experts, has only been scratched.
